

How to transfer your converted music on DVDs to your Microsoft™ Windows™ PC

1. Insert the DVD into your computer's DVD drive
2. Double click on "My Computer" on the desktop, or click once on "My Computer" in the Start menu
3. Click once on your DVD drive
4. Once highlighted, choose the "Edit" menu at the top of the window, and choose "Select All." (You can also use Ctrl-A)
5. Navigate to your chosen destination window (often times "My Music" or "Music")
6. Choose the "Edit" menu again, and choose "Copy" (You can also use Ctrl-C)

How to setup iTunes™ and any iPod™

Now that your music has been transferred from your DVDs onto your computer, you can use iTunes™ to manage your collection and sync with your iPod. If you don't have iTunes™, you can download it free at <http://www.apple.com/itunes/download>

1. Load your music onto your computer (see instructions on your DVD case)
2. Open iTunes™. Choose File -> Add to Library
3. Navigate to the Music folder (or other location) where you stored your music from the DVDs
4. Select all of the Artist folders (use Ctrl-A or Edit -> Select All) and click "Choose" in the bottom right corner
5. iTunes will add all of the music to your Library, which is now available to sync to an iPod™

Now simply connect your iPod™ and go! If you have syncing questions, please refer to your iPod™ user manual for further loading instructions, or visit <http://www.apple.com/support>

Your iPod™ has two options for syncing - an automatic mode where iTunes™ will automatically sync the music/movies/applications you choose upon a connection to the computer, or a manual mode where you simply drag and drop the files you want from your Library onto your iPod™. Music can be moved onto an iPod™ in manual mode, but cannot be copied off of the iPod™ onto the same or any other computer

The instructions in this document are normally compatible with iPod™ models, as well as the iPod™ Touch and iPhone™
